SERVICE
Help is nearby. When you need an upgrade or repair, you’ll find Fleetwood dealers all across North America ready to assist you.

TRUST
More people trust Fleetwood. After all, we’ve spent over 50 years perfecting RVs, earning the loyalty of generations of RVers.

To make sure that you get the maximum satisfaction out of your recreational vehicle purchase, there are several things you should know:

1. Learn all you can about the travel trailer or fifth wheel you’re planning to buy. Don’t rely on word of mouth. Get the facts about the actual trailer length, width, unloaded weight with options, Gross Vehicle Weight Rating, and Cargo Carrying Capacity. These are usually available in the manufacturer’s sales literature or from the Cargo Carrying Capacity Label located in each trailer. Be sure to check this information before you decide which unit to buy.

2. Verify the towing capacity of your tow vehicle. If you don’t know, or aren’t sure, you can ask at your automotive dealership or contact your tow vehicle manufacturer. Be sure to match your tow vehicle’s tow rating to the Gross Vehicle Weight Rating (not dry weight) of the trailer you are considering. To help Fleetwood travel trailer customers estimate this total weight, our Gross Vehicle Weight Ratings reflect the maximum weight of the trailer when fully loaded for camping. Be sure the weight of the tow vehicle plus the Gross Vehicle Weight of your trailer does not exceed the Gross Combined Weight Rating (GCWR) of the tow vehicle.

Taking these simple steps before you buy will help ensure that your trailer and tow vehicle combination is just what you wanted.

See you on the trail!
