SASQUATCHXC®

Welcome to SasquatchXC, where innovation meets adventure in the creation of premium off-road camp trailers. As seasoned trailblazing explorers, we craft campers that redefine the very essence of adventure, embodying the spirit of exploration and discovery.

SXC

At SasquatchXC, we craft the ultimate blend of capability and comfort for your overlanding and off-road adventures. Our campers provide a secure haven for all explorers looking to tow and set up basecamp in the wild. Our secret weapons? An in-house engineered independent coil-over suspension system, underneath a lightweight aluminum build, all backed by an industry-leading warranty. Say goodbye to the sketchy situations that traditional RVs and poorly built off-road campers drag into the remote, rugged scene.

While some prioritize flashy add-ons over solid construction, SXC is committed to intrinsic quality and lasting durability. Our products aren't mass-produced in a dull industrial park; they're hand-crafted and rigorously tested in the rugged terrains of the Rocky Mountains in Colorado and New Mexico.

We're not just building campers; we're building a movement.

BORN IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

Designed and tested in the heart of the San Juan Mountain Range in southwestern Colorado, and manufactured in the high rugged desert of Northwest New Mexico, our designs draw inspiration from the rugged terrain that surround us. Here, at the crossroads of innovation and nature, our trailers come to life.
